Child Welfare Provisional Certification Extension

PURPOSE

Provisional certification is valid for a 12-month period; starting on the date a passing score was earned on the child welfare exam. Within the 12-month period, provisionally certified individuals are to complete additional requirements, apply for and hold full certification. Individuals able to demonstrate extenuating circumstances may apply for a one-time extension to complete full certification requirements.

POLICY

- A. Provisional certification extensions may be granted to individuals who were not able to earn full certification within required timeframes for the following reasons:
 - a. Extended absence from work for maternity/paternity leave, Family and Medical Leave Act (FMLA), or other extended illness. The extension will be equal to the amount of time the employee was on approved leave.
 - b. Part-time staff. The extension will be granted for six (6) months.
 - c. Discipline transfer mid-certification. The extension will be granted for six (6) months.
 - d. Other circumstance. The applicant must submit a written Extension Request Memo (see last page of this document) packet for review and action by the Child Welfare Advisory Council (CWAC). The length of the extension will vary based on circumstances, not to exceed six (6) months.
- B. Eligible individuals may apply for a one-time provisional certification extension by meeting the following conditions:
 - a. Must submit a Child Welfare Provisional Certification Extension Application, including supporting documentation, a minimum of three (3) weeks prior to the provisional certification expiration date. Individuals are NOT eligible to apply for an extension after the provisional certification has expired.
 - b. Must agree to complete requirements and apply for full certification at least two (2) weeks before the extension period ends.
 - c. Must pay a $75.00 fee.
- C. When granted, the extension start date begins on the Provisional Certification expiration date.
- D. Failure to earn full certification by the extension expiration date will result in the credential being placed on inactive status and the individual is no longer qualified to perform or supervise others performing caseload carrying responsibilities.
- E. Inactive provisional certification may not be reinstated. Individuals failing to earn full certification by the end of the extension period must start the certification process as a new applicant, meeting all standards in place at the time of re-application, including all mandatory forms, test requirements, and fee payment.
- F. Extension requests will be reviewed for action within 10 working dates of receipt.
 - a. When FCB grants an extension, the applicant will receive an email verifying the extension, including the extension end date. The applicant will not receive a new provisional certification card with the new extension date. The FCB will update the database to reflect the new expiration date. The search results from the FCB website services as official verification of the expiration date.
 - b. When FCB denies an extension, the applicant will receive an email indicating the denial and restating the (1) current expiration date, and (2) consequences for failure to earn certification within required timeframes. A written letter will be sent to the applicant, as well.
 - c. When a request must go to the Child Welfare Advisory Council (CWAC) for review and action, the FCB will forward the extension request (application and any supporting documentation) to the CWAC and schedule a conference call for discussion within 10 days of receipt of the extension request. In the instance that the CWAC cannot meet and vote on the issue prior to the expiration of the original provisional certification, the FCB will automatically grant the extension until the CWAC can meet.
