

Introduction

Child Welfare Provisional Certification requires successful completion of classroom training, field training, online learning labs, a multiple-choice test, and competency demonstration assessments. This document provides directions, best practices, and mandatory forms to meet the provisional certification requirement: Protective Investigations Concepts and Procedures Checklist of discussions and observations. This field-based training requirement supports competency development by bridging classroom concepts with field practices.

CWPI-P Field-Based Training Requirement – Concepts and Procedures Checklist

- 1. Discuss 28 investigator duties and associated concepts with qualified evaluators.
- 2. Observe certified investigators performing 13 of these duties in the field:
 - Bold/highlighted tasks are mandatory observations
 - Other tasks may be observed based on availability
- 3. Participate in debriefing sessions after each observation:
 - Connect concepts and procedures to observed performance
 - Discuss successful aspects and areas for improvement

Performance Standard

- 1. Engage in discussions with qualified evaluators about 28 protective investigation duties and their associated concepts and procedures.
- 2. Observe certified investigators performing 13 key duties in the field, followed by debriefing discussions with qualified evaluators.
- 3. Complete all discussions and observations:
 - After the first day of employment at an FCB-approved child welfare employer
 - Before receiving the CWPI-P (Child Welfare Protective Investigator Provisional) credential

Application Documentation & Requirement Approval

- 1. The designated point-of-contact submits completed forms to the Florida Certification Board (FCB).
- 2. FCB approval is required for provisional certification.
- 3. All submitted materials are subject to the FCB Code of Ethical and Professional Conduct, specifically:

Rule 4.1: An applicant or certified professional will not present fraudulent documents when applying for certification, certification upgrades, or certification renewal.

Rule 4.2: An applicant or certified professional will not prepare fraudulent certification documents for other certification applicants.

Guidelines for PI trainees

The PI trainee is assigned a lead evaluator by their supervisor or training unit, depending on the agency. The lead evaluator will conduct most discussions and observations with the trainee and sign the main attestation page. Additional evaluators will complete the Additional Evaluator Attestations form.

All PI trainees must:

- Obtain a printed copy of the CWPI Concepts and Procedures Checklist & Attestations form.
- D Participate in field discussions covering each item on the checklist.
- Complete field observations of the 13 bold/highlighted items on the checklist.
- D Discuss protective investigation concepts, procedures, and field observations with qualified evaluators.
- □ Secure dates, initials, and attestations from qualified evaluators.
- □ Sign the Trainee section of the attestation form.
- □ Submit the completed CWPI Concepts and Procedures Checklist & Attestation forms to their supervisor for review, signature, and forwarding to the designated FCB point of contact.

General Guidelines for Evaluators

Evaluator Responsibilities

- Qualified evaluators lead discussions and observations with PI trainees.
- Trainees may work with one or more evaluators to complete the checklist.

Documentation Process

- 1. Single Evaluator Scenario:
 - Check, date, and initial each discussion/observation.
 - Sign the lead evaluator section on the attestation page.
- 2. Multiple Evaluator Scenario:
 - Each evaluator checks, dates, and initials their facilitated discussions/observations on a single checklist.
 - The evaluator who facilitated the most concepts, signs the first attestation page.
 - Additional evaluators sign separate attestation pages.
- 3. Trainee and Supervisor Requirement:
 - Both must sign the main individual attestation page.

Special Circumstance

If the checklist is completed in less than 20 working hours, the PI trainee's supervisor must provide a written narrative explaining the compressed timeline.

General Guidelines for Effective Discussions and Observations/Shadowing with Trainees

Preparing for Discussions

- Define key learning objectives for each topic
- Assess the trainee's existing knowledge
- Plan the most effective way to present information

Conducting Discussions

- Encourage questions from the trainee
- Check for understanding by asking the trainee to summarize key points

Managing Observations

- Identify suitable opportunities for trainees to observe colleagues in the field
- Guide the trainee during observations as needed
- Conduct debriefing sessions after each observation

Preparing for Observations

- Brief colleagues and other participants about the trainee's presence
- Emphasize learning opportunities and assure confidentiality

- 1. Discussions: Qualified evaluators introduce and discuss all listed investigative tasks.
- 2. Observations: Trainee directly observes BOLD highlighted tasks.
- 3. Documentation: Trainee maintains a checklist, ensuring tasks are dated and signed off.
- 4. Final Review: Upon completion, the trainee meets with the supervisor for final review and debriefing.

5. Submission: The Supervisor submits the completed checklist and attestation pages to the FCB point-of-contact.
